The cocoon vol.04 is the fourth in a series of installations of the same name by artist Ana Maria Suso. After multiple attempts at bridging architecture and craft in the pursuit of redefining ways of making, this iteration is a leap from the individual into the collective, touching on the theme of connection: across identities, across scenes, across senses.

The space you're about to enter is the fruit of a collaborative effort to reconceive spaces of equal parts connection and disconnection; an amalgam of unusual counterparts. In the spirit of this manifesto, you are invited to intervene on the piece, leaving your trace in the web. For this purpose there are some materials inside for you to create with, but you are also welcome to use anything else - a (mis)placed object, an amulet, a thought, a love letter.

As long as there is respect, all is allowed.

This installation has been made in collaboration with Knits and Notes (@knits.n.notes) as part of Amsterdam Dance Event. For more information on this installation and the artist, scan the QR code.
